$80,000 For His Discovery

Formula for Stomach Medicine Brings Large Sum

This is G. M. Gordon, widely known Dallas, Texas, pharmacist, who spent twenty years developing "Gordon's," an internal Antiseptic for the stomach and bowels, for which he received $80,000 for the rights to the secret process of formulating.

"The greatest obstacle to the successful treatment of stomach troubles," said Mr. Gordon, "was fermentation (causing of food matter in the stomach and bowels), which inflames and irritates these organs and produces gas that causes much distress. Fermentation can be stopped only with an antiseptic."

"Gordon's" goes right to the seat of the trouble, as it expresses a digestive effect. It stops and prevents fermentation, soothes and heals any irritated or inflamed condition and will bring quick relief in cases of gas, dyspepsia, heartburn, bloating after meals, excess acid, indigestion, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, when caused by faulty digestion, loss of the digestive organs and stimulates the stomach and bowels to their normal function. A few drops will convince you. Sold by good druggists. $1.50 per bottle of sixty-four doses—less than three cents a dose.

BEHIND THIS POLICY OF CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT IS AN ORGANIZATION SO WIDESPREAD AND RESOURCEFUL THAT IT CAN MAKE AND SELL QUALITY AUTOMOBILES MORE ECONOMICALLY THAN ANY AUTOMOBILE MANUFACTURER IN THE WORLD.

In the north and south it logs and mills its own lumber. In the east it makes its own ball bearings and radiators. In the middle west it produces its own plate glass. Its plants are busy in 33 important American cities.

From almost 5,000 suppliers, its materials are obtained—steel by the hundreds of thousands of tons—wire by the tens of thousands of miles—upholstery by the acre—nuts, bolts and washers by the millions. Its sales and service take place through 33,000 dealers. More than 275,000 families look directly to General Motors for their livelihood—almost a million and a half men, women and children in every community in the land.

Meaning so much to so many, General Motors has felt a supreme obligation to look ahead.

Are there methods by which General Motors cars can be better built to better serve?

Are there new ideas which can increase the utility and pleasure and safety of motoring?

Are there new materials which can add to owner satisfaction?

Such are the questions that all General Motors engineers have always asked. The answers have made it possible, year after year, to offer an increasing measure of beauty in design, modern performance, riding comfort and distinct style. Thus in every price class, from Cadillac to Chevrolet, purchasers are constantly benefiting from the General Motors policy of progress.

Flying Kitten Has Its Own Parachute
Pittsburgh—Hillie, the flying kitten mascot of Kenneth Carter Lawry, air mail pilot, never goes up for a flight without her own little para-chute.
Hillie is a general favorite with all the flyers at Bells field, Pitts-burgh's airport. Today she exhibited her skill when she was tossed by her owner and she landed safely.
The kitten seemed to enjoy her first flight so, Lawry decided to take her along regularly. The odds of the air, however, calls for all occupants of a ship to have parachutes, and when it's impossible for all to have the safety device, then no one on the plane wears one.
Lawry had his regular parachute so he decided that Hillie must have one, and he manufactured a small sized parachute for the kitten. She is taken with the pilot on virtually all of his air voyages, whether with mail or passengers, and on each trip she wears her emergency landing gear strapped to her back.
"We haven't had to jump yet," said the kitten's owner, "but I think she's going to be all set, and Hillie is going down with me."

London.—Scrapped of the mud of many centuries, a tablet dug up by the archaeologists reveals a gam-bler's score card at least 6,000 years old.
The tablet with other trophies taken from the ruins of the ancient city of Uruk, 10 miles southeast of Baby-lon, the birthplace of Mesopotamia, is now on exhibit at the British Museum where it was brought by C. Leonard Woolley, head of the expedition.

MAKE 1928
A SAFE YEAR
"Make 1928 a safe year" is the pointed suggestion of H. G. Hastings, of Atlanta, recognized leader of farm thought and president of the Georgia Association, state-wide development organization that has for its principal object the betterment of farm conditions in Georgia.
"Ten of thousands of our farm fam-ilies stepped up financially in 1927, not so much because of a higher price for cotton, but because they followed more closely a balanced farm program that provided food, grain and forage from home acre, instead of from sup-ply merchant or grain dealer."
"Further, there were other things in addition to the so-called 'cash crop' to sell something bringing in money every month in the year. Chickens and eggs, milk or cream, hogs, vegeta-bles, peanuts, watermelons etc., all helped to bring dollars into farm pockets that would otherwise have been empty."
"We got along with less credit than for many years. Bankers and mer-chants were scared in the spring of 1927. Few farm folks could get much credit. But things that ever happened. They made things go without credit. Chickens, hogs, cows, vegetables, etc., helped a lot. Result was that when the 1927 cotton crop was made, it was owned by the farmer instead of being owed to banker and supply mer-chant."
"Let us all do our best to make 1928 a safe farm year. There will be a great temptation to slip back into old ways. Cotton is higher and credit scarce. The inclination will be to plant more cotton and less food, grain and forage crops, raise fewer chickens, cows, hogs and less garden truck."
"If we have no better sense than that we have a foothold in the better way, then to slip back into the old all-cotton, all-credit way, we deserve no sympathy or help from any source. The cow, the hog, the hen and the all-year-round garden will always carry the expense of the all-cotton plan. Remember what Bill Kumpus said recently in Southern Ruralist: 'This here 20 to 25 cent cotton don't come true to seed. You and all your neighbors plant seed. A heap of it and it don't make nuthin' but 10 cent cotton.'"
"Make 1928 a safe farm year by farming safe. Debts won't hurt you then."

Brundidge Citizens Endorse Candidacy of A. G. Seay
BRUNDIDGE, ALABAMA, FEBRUARY 1, 1928.
TO THE PEOPLE OF THE TWELFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT:
We, the undersigned citizens, residing in the Town of Brundidge, or its immediate vicinity, voluntarily and without solicitation on his part, make this statement with reference to Mr. A. G. Seay, who is a candidate for judge of this Circuit in the ensuing primary election. Mr. Seay was born in Coffee County and moved with his parents to this place when three years of age, and from that time to the present his life has been an open book to the people of this community.
He was educated partly in the public schools of this place, but mostly in his father's or someone else's store and in his room at night, so that he entered the Sophomore class at the University of Alabama and three years later was graduated from that institution with the degree of A. B. and second in his class. After teaching school a few years he re-entered business at this place, assisting in organizing the First National Bank, of which he served as Cashier for four years, and then resigned to enter the practice of law. He now resides at Troy and has been engaged in the practice of law for twenty years. He now enjoys a practice which in quality and extent has never been excelled by any lawyer in this county. Since entering the practice he has been the legal adviser of this community in non-contentious matters, and has been employed on one side or the other of almost every controversial question of law. He has been city attorney for this town since he first opened a law office, and for the last twelve years has been attorney for both banks here.

Mr. Seay has worked continuously all of his life. He is prompt, conscientious, and painstaking in handling all matters entrusted to him. His moral and religious life are above reproach, and his honesty and integrity have never been called in question by any one who knows him. He is evenly balanced and has never been an extremist on any subject or line of action. He is not an orator, but is a thinker who thinks straight and impartially. He has convictions and does not hesitate to express them at the proper time.

With full confidence in his ability and fitness for the place he seeks, we commend him to the citizens of this District and ask their support, in the belief that if elected he will make one of the best Judges this District has ever had.

TEXAS HORNS FROG SURVIVES 31 YEARS IN CORNER STONE OF COURTHOUSE.

Eastland, Tex., Feb. 19.—A horned frog, sealed alive in the cornerstone of the courthouse here 31 years ago, was alive when the stone was opened yesterday according to County Judge Edward S. Pritchard. The old courthouse is being razed. It is a West Texas tradition that a horned frog can exist a century without food or water. A skeptical newspaperman had the judge verify the report that the frog was alive when taken from its long entombment.

The cornerstone containing the frog and a number of old newspapers, coins and Masonic emblems, was opened in the presence of a throng of curious residents who gathered to see the frog, dead or alive.

When Eugene Day, surrounded by county officials, picked the frog from the cavity in the stone, a cheer went up. The frog appeared lifeless for some time. After awhile it opened its eyes, as the crowd waited for some sign of life. Then in about 20 minutes began to breathe. The mouth, however, appeared to have grown together.

The frog was placed in a box in the custody of Judge Pritchard and is on exhibition. Efforts will be made to induce it to take food and if necessary the mouth will be opened by an operation.

Remember IT'S "SODA" not luck!

THE whole South now knows the story of the 1927 cotton champions... every single one of them in the different states made liberal use of Chilean Nitrate of Soda. Same story the crops told the year before... and the year before that. It's Soda, not luck, that makes the biggest, most profitable crop.

Alabama Champion

First place in the Alabama Cotton Contest was won by A. L. Ford, of Hightower. He produced 3,044 lbs. (over 6 bales) on 5 acres. The fertilizer he used to grow this winning crop consisted of 140 lbs. acid phosphate, 120 lbs. Nitrate of Soda, and 40 lbs. of potash per acre.

Part of the Soda was put down at planting and the balance as a side dressing (The Auburn Method).

How about your cotton crop this year? If you feed it the quick-acting nitrogen it needs—Chilean Nitrate of Soda—it will produce more cotton per acre... and better cotton, too. Beat the weevil. Order now and be sure of an early money-making crop.

ALABAMA issues a call to all her citizens to enlist in her war against Woods Fires!

Woods Fires are costing $4,000,000 each year. They not only destroy seedlings and young trees that should grow to be our forests of the future but also burn much timber that has present value.

Alabama is engaged in a finish fight against Woods Fires, so that your trees can grow into tall timber and be made into lumber and other forest products to keep the wheels of her industries turning.

But this is going to be an unusual kind of fire fighting. There is no state wide fire department to be called out. The cooperation of every true Alabamian will win the fight. Such a war is less expensive to the tax payer and far more effective.

Woods fires can be prevented. It is only necessary to be careful and help others to be careful. Fight every fire that starts anywhere near you, and go to the assistance of others who are fighting fire. Do everything you can to prevent Woods Fires and Alabama will win her war.
